Clear Space and Minimum Size

The standard amount of space between the logo and any other object is one-third the logo width extending in every direction as shown. It is important to maintain this clearspace to prevent other graphic elements from competing with the logo.

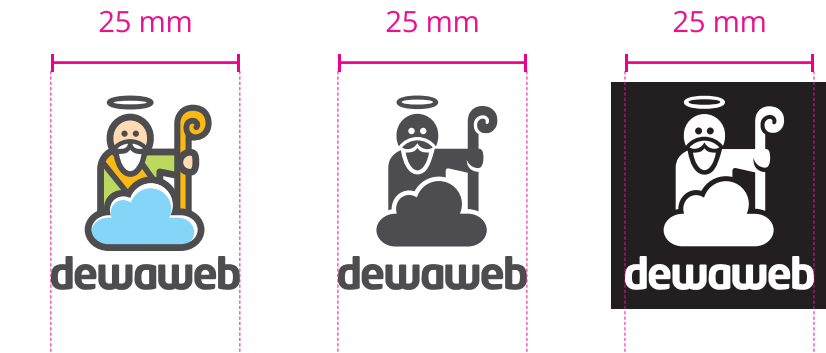

The smallest size the logo can shrink is shown on the below. Note that the brackets containing the words are shown for scale, while the actual size is shown in the narrower brackets below and in the scale shown overlapping the yellow box.

Minimum size 25 mm used for print.
